

Wound Management Centers

St. Luke's Wound Management Center – Quakertown Physician Testimonial

“Their high level of care is only surpassed by their convenient, timely service.”

– Erin Fly, DO

Erin Fly, DO, Quakertown Internal Medicine Associates

Erin Fly, DO, practices internal medicine at Quakertown Internal Medicine Associates.

Dr. Fly has been referring patients to the St. Luke's Wound Management Center – Quakertown, the first wound care center in Bucks County, since the facility's inception in 2000.

“Their high level of care is only surpassed by their convenient, timely service. They treat patients for conditions many other facilities can only coordinate in a hospital setting. This high level of skill ensures patients are treated with the most state-of-the-art therapies. By offering these services in their office, they help patients avoid hospitalization – which is more convenient and less traumatic,” Fly comments.

Dr. Fly goes on to say that their response times to scheduling an appointment are unsurpassed in the industry. “We can schedule a patient with a very complex wound in the morning, and the patient will be seen in the afternoon,” she adds.

Dr. Fly says she is consistently impressed by how well the services are coordinated at St. Luke's Wound Management Centers. “Whenever I refer to St. Luke's, I know that my patients are receiving the highest quality care. I also feel good that they don't have to wait forever to get an appointment. It's a top-notch, one-stop shop that epitomizes customer service,” Fly concludes.

For more information about St. Luke's Wound Management Center – Quakertown, call 215-529-6300. For more information about Dr. Erin Fly, call 215-538-1111.

St. Luke's Wound Management Center – Quakertown
St. Luke's Quakertown Hospital
1021 Park Avenue
Quakertown, PA 18951
215-529-6300

My Health. My Hospital.